On this First Sunday in Lent, Holy Mother Church gives us a beautifully encouraging psalm between the Old Testament reading (cf.: Deuteronomy 26:4-10) and the Epistle (Romans 10:8-13) on this First Sunday in Lent (Sunday cycle C).

In the biblical notations, we are told that Psalm 91 is the prayer of someone who has taken refuge in the temple, who believes that God protects even the most challenging situations. The final verses promise salvation to those who trust in the Lord.

Each year, the penitential Season of Lent provides us with the opportunity to review that part of us which too many take for granted: our spiritual life. There are so many daily distractions and temptations that make it difficult to stay on the straight and narrow. The too-busy, complicated, often irrational world of the twenty-first century has us multi-tasking and focusing on just about every other thing in life, except that which counts the most, and outlasts the rest: our immortal souls. Lent is the ideal time to take an honest look at ourselves, be grateful for the good we see and admit that, to greater and lesser degrees, we are sinners. This is why penance is an integral part of Lent.

When we do sin, it's best to acknowledge our failures. Without delay, we should set out to correct our faults and remove sinful practices. In the Sacrament of Penance, we encounter our merciful God. Confessing our sins, resolving to improve and avoid sin, and receiving the absolution of Jesus through the words of the priest is perhaps better than any other type of healing we'll receive in this life. Don't fear, or avoid Confession.

Psalm 91 presupposes that we are persons of faith. We know that God will never abandon those who truly love Him, even when we wound our spiritual lives by mortal or venial sin. This psalm is an appropriate preparation prayer for Confession. It offers confidence for the believer, even when facing tribulations (e.g., the recent devastating earthquake in Haiti). We encourage you to pray Psalm 91 often this Lenten Season:

“He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High, and abides in the shade of the Almighty, says to the LORD, “My refuge, my stronghold, my God in whom I trust.” It is He who will free you from the snare of the fowler who seeks to destroy you. He will conceal with His pinions and under His wings you will find refuge; His faithfulness is buckler and shield.

“You will not fear the terror of the night, nor the arrow that flies by day, nor the plague that prowls in the darkness, nor the scourge that lays waste at noon. A thousand may fall at your side, ten thousand at your right, you it will never approach. Your eyes have only to look, to see how the wicked are repaid. You who have said LORD my refuge, my stronghold, my God in Whom I trust. No evil shall befall you, no affliction come near your tent. For to His angels He has given command to guard you in all your ways. They shall bear you upon their hands, lest you strike your foot against a stone. On the asp and the viper you will tread, and trample the lion and the dragon. He who clings to me in love, I will free him; protect him for he knows my Name. He who calls upon me I will answer and be with him in distress; I will deliver him and give him honor. With length of life I will content him, I will let him see my saving power.”

A STORY TO REMEMBER

After a few of the usual Sunday evening hymns, the Church's Pastor slowly stood up, walked over to the pulpit and, before he gave his sermon for the evening, he briefly introduced a guest minister who was in the service that evening. In the introduction, the Pastor told the congregation that the guest minister was one of his dearest childhood friends and that he wanted him to have a few moments to greet the church and share whatever he felt would be appropriate for the service....

With that, an elderly man stepped up to the pulpit and began to speak.

"A father, his son, and a friend of his son were sailing off the pacific coast," he began. "When a fast approaching storm blocked any attempt to get back to the shore. The waves were so high that even though the father was an experienced sailor, he could not keep the boat upright and the three were swept into the ocean as the boat capsized."

The old man hesitated for a moment, making eye contact with two teenagers who were for the first time since the service began, looking somewhat interested in his story. The aged minister continued with his story, "grabbing a rescue line, the father had to make the most excruciating decision of his life: to which boy would he throw the other end of the life line. He only had seconds to make the decision. The father knew that his son was a Christian and he, also knew that his son's friend was not. The agony of his decision could not be matched by the torrent of waves. As the father yelled out, "I love you son!" he threw out the lifeline to his son's friend. By the time the father had pulled the friend back to the capsized boat, his son had disappeared beneath the raging swells into the black of night....his body was never recovered.

By this time, the two teenagers were sitting up straight in the pew, anxiously waiting for the next words to come out of the old minister's mouth. "The father," he continued, "knew his son would step into eternity with Jesus and he could not bear the thought of his son's friend stepping into an eternity without Jesus. Therefore, he sacrificed his son to save the son's friend."

How great is the love of God that He should do the same for us. Our Heavenly Father sacrificed His only begotten son that we could be saved. I urge you to accept His offer to rescue you and take a hold of the lifeline He is throwing out to you in this service." With that, the old man turned and sat back down in his chair as silence filled the room.

The Pastor again walked slowly to the pulpit and delivered a brief sermon with an invitation at the end. However, no one responded to the appeal.

Within minutes after the service ended, the two teenagers were at the old man's side. "That was a nice story," politely stated one of them," but I don't think it was very realistic for a father to give up his only son's life in hopes that the other boy would become a Christian." Well, you've got a point there," the old man replied, glancing down at his worn bible. A big smile broadened his narrow face. He once again looked up at the boys and said, "it sure isn't very realistic, is it? But, I'm standing here today to tell you that story gives me a glimpse of what it must have been like for God to hive up His Son for me. You see...

I was that father and your Pastor is my son's friend."

Kids in Church

A little boy was overheard praying: 'Lord, if you can't make me a better boy, don't worry about it. I'm having a real good time like I am.'

*****

After the christening of his baby brother in church, Jason sobbed all the way home in the back seat of the car. His father asked him three times what was wrong. Finally, the boy replied, 'That preacher said he wanted us brought up in a Christian home, and I wanted to stay with you guys.'

*****

A Sunday school teacher asked her children as they were on the way to church service, 'And why is it necessary to be quiet in church?' One bright little girl replied, 'Because people are sleeping.'

*****

A mother was preparing pancakes for her sons, Kevin 5, and Ryan 3. The boys began to argue over who would get the first pancake. Their mother saw the opportunity for a moral lesson. 'If Jesus were sitting here, He would say, 'Let my brother have the first pancake, I can wait.' Kevin turned to his younger brother and said, 'Ryan, you be Jesus!'
